PROTECT OUR ENVIRONMENT!

Sustainability is a highly important value for us, and we are committed to using environmentally friendly materials that contribute to reducing the environmental footprint of our products. Therefore, we proudly utilize innovative materials such as jute, RPET (recycled PET), recycled canvas and paper, organic cotton, stainless steel, recycled aluminium, recycled stainless steel, bamboo, wood, and cork.

The use of these materials allows for a reduction in environmental impact, as many of them come from renewable sources or are made from recycled materials. Recycled materials like RPET or recycled paper, for example, reduce the need for new raw materials and minimize waste in landfills.

These materials are generally of excellent quality and durability, leading to a longer lifespan compared to certain single-use plastic or paper alternatives. This contributes to reduced consumption and increased product durability, ultimately lowering the amount of waste generated.

Additionally, the use of sustainable materials can positively impact the reputation of companies and brands. It showcases a company's commitment to environmental consciousness and responsible business practices, appealing to environmentally conscious consumers and clients.

Protection of the environment is of utmost importance to our company, and we strive to ensure that our packaging is completely free from plastics. It is a key focus for our products not only to represent high quality but also to be sustainable, which is why we use exclusively recycled and recyclable paper in the production of our boxes.

Each box is crafted with a unique design, providing not only an eco-friendly but also an aesthetically attractive appearance. The various boxes complement each other beautifully, making them perfect for sale as sets.

RECYCLED PAPER

Recycling paper plays an important role in protecting the environment by reducing the need for logging and waste disposal. Recycled paper is produced with lower energy consumption and emits fewer harmful substances into the environment. Recycling allows for multiple uses of paper, which can improve the environmental condition in the long term.

The process of recycling paper involves the following steps: collection, cleaning, shredding, wetting, filtering, and pressing. During the production of recycled paper, paper pieces are mixed with water and chemicals to facilitate filtering and pressing. The paper pulp is evenly distributed during pressing and then dried to create the recycled paper.

INKLESS PEN

Inkless pens are a new generation writing tool that represents a revolutionary approach compared to traditional ink pens or ballpoint pens. As the name suggests, these pens do not require either ink cartridges or ink for use.

The uniqueness of inkless pens lies in a special composition layer located at the tip of the pen, which interacts with the microstructure of the paper. When we press the tip of the pen onto the paper, it leaves a mark. This process is similar to drawing with a pencil, but with inkless pens, there is no need to sharpen the tip, and the writing or drawing is much smoother and more uniform.

The advantage of inkless pens is that we don't have to worry about refilling ink. Inkless pens write without leaving a trace, so we don't have to fear ink stains or smudges. The pens are also durable, as the composition layer has a long lifespan and doesn't wear out as easily as traditional pen tips.

GEL INK & SEMI-GEL INK

Gel-based ballpoint pens, or gel ink pens, are popular writing instruments used for writing and drawing. They come in two main types: traditional gel ink pens and semi-gel ink pens. Traditional gel ink pens store ink in a reservoir or cartridge and dispense it using a ball or cylinder. Semi-gel ink pens typically mix the ink with a special substance for a more liquid and easy writing experience.

Gel ink pens are comfortable, easy to use, and provide a smooth writing experience. The ink dries quickly, reducing the likelihood of smudging. They offer a wide range of colors for vibrant writing and are great for detailed work.

Overall, gel-based ballpoint pens are versatile and practical tools for clean and smooth writing. They are favored by those seeking style and comfort in their writing instruments.

SUBLIMATION

Sublimation printing enables the transfer of high-quality and durable emblems, patterns, or images onto various promotional items' surfaces.

This process relies on the use of sublimation inks, which transition into a gas state under the influence of heat, embedding themselves deeply into the material of the objects. As a result, smooth and long-lasting emblems are created, characterized by excellent quality and resistance to wear.

INDUCTIVE CHARGING

Inductive charging, also known as wireless charging, offers numerous advantages and practical aspects that make it an attractive option for many users. One of the biggest plus points is convenience. It requires no physical cable connections, so users can simply place their devices on a charging mat or station without having to fiddle with cables or plugs. This not only reduces hassle, but also significantly reduces wear and tear on charging sockets and cables, resulting in a longer lifespan for both the device and the charging accessory.
